GREAT FIRE IN CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, July 15.—At 2:30 this morning the limits of the fire were as follows: On Clark street No. 535, which is about Twelfth street on the South, and about Polk on the North; on Dearborn street the southern limit is near Twelfth street, and the northern limit on Polk street; on Wabash Avenue Harmon Court forms the southern boundary, the northern limit being between Jackson and Van Buren streets; on State street the southern limit is Harmon Court, the line extending on the north nearly to Jackson street. Third and Fourth Avenues are burned nearly their whole length. The fire burned a number of houses on Michigan Avenue, but has not damaged that street to any great extent. Some twenty blocks are burned. The loss is variously estimated, but cannot be given with accuracy.

The loss will not be less than four millions and will probably reach six millions. This is covered by about two-fifths insurance, which is divided among numerous companies.

Since the great fire the insurance companies have been very careful not to take large risks in one locality.

THE GERM-THEORY OF DISEASE.

The germ-theory of disease has recently received a most interesting and demonstrative contribution from an eminent German scientist. The communication of his experimental investigations and the conclusion he has reached are singularly and strongly confirmed by Hemboltz, on the continent, and Tyndal, in England. The researches which are to be here made by Professor Binz, of Bonn, with powerful microscopic apparatus, and extend over a period of several years.

Being a victim to the distressing malady, he is here—so prevalent in May and June in this country—the Bonn investigator anticipated from the seasonable prevalence of the disease, that it was traceable to the vegetable organisms. Having armed himself with the powerful immersion lens of a Hartnack microscope, he subjected the nasal secretions to analysis. In examining the secretions he uniformly found organisms wholly absent, except when suffering with the disease in the spring. When laid on the warm stage of the microscope these organic or parasitical bodies were distinctly seen in motion, vibrating backwards and forwards in life, and, after several days, had evidently increased in size. They adhere tenaciously to the lower cavities of the nose, and can be discharged only by violent sneezing. But the most beautiful part of the research was in the discovery of the remedy for their presence in the human system. On preparing a neutral solution of sulphate of quinine, free from adulteration by cinchonin, and applying this to the nostrils with a pipette or simple nose douche, the desired effect was immediately secured. The poisonous action of quinine on infusoria was perfectly brought out, the symptoms of irritation completely disappeared, and the lens revealed the entire absence of animalculæ in the subsequent secretions. The results agree with those arrived at in 1870 by Dr Frickhofer, of Schwalbach, and Professor Busch, of Bonn, both of whom, with Helmholtz, the great physiologist, have successfully applied quinine for the cure of this parasitical malady.

These highly interesting and beautiful inquiries in medical science, besides establishing the great value of quinine, and providing a remedy for a disease which is extremely distressing, will give an impetus to an investigation which is one of the most promising in modern therapeutics. A distinguished leader of medical thought in New York, in a public address, recently said, if there was one direction in which progress is now so marked as to constitute a dominant feature of the present state of medicine, and to embrace a new medical idea, it is the origin and propagation of disease by independent organic germs. No late physiological investigation has been so promisingly pushed, and none has offered so many lines of solution for the mysterious epidemics which, from time immemorial, have afflicted man and beast.

The atmosphere is loaded with matter which, however invisible to the naked eye, needs only to be sifted in a strong beam of artificial light to reveal countless particles, each of which may afford a nidus for poisonous infusoria. With greater perfection in optical apparatus, this fact will doubtless yet be made startlingly apparent. But, whatever choice can ultimately, however alarming it may be, the progress of all remedial and curative processes can only be advanced by such unstinted analysis.

Eminent physicists and original investigators, as M. Pasteur, of the French academy of science; Professor Lister, of Edinburgh, and others, in their long-continued and exhaustive experiments, reached conclusions harmonious with those of Helmholtz and Tyndal. While it will always be true that doctors will differ, this difference does not impair the enduring practical utility of such researches. The sanitary and medical issues they involve are so manifold and momentous that it would be a grand step in the right direction if a number of eminent microscopists and physicists, well provided with means, could combine their skill for a final solution of the precise problem on which so much depends.

A LION HUNT ON A STEAMSHIP.

Lion hunting on board a steamship is certainly a novelty, yet the passengers and crew of the Euphrates and Tigris Steam Navigation company's vessel, City of London, seem to have had a most exciting and successful lion hunt on the 12th of March last.

From the account given by a correspondent of the Times of India, it appears that on the morning of that day, when at the junction of the two rivers Euphrates and Tigris, where the rivers had overflowed the embankments, three full grown lions were seen walking along the shore in the water about a mile ahead of the steamer. On nearing the beasts one was shot dead while trying to swim toward the ship. The launch was manned to pick up the carcass, and the steamer pursued the two others, who turned round to charge the vessel.

After many shots had been fired at them, one was struck dead by the commander, and the other was shortly afterward despatched by a bullet from a Snider. The steamer then approached the bank, and the dead lions, or rather lioness, for such they proved to be, were taken on board. About ten minutes later a large male lion was observed crouching down on a small tract of ground surrounded with water, and waving his tail, perhaps as a signal of distress. On being fired at he gave a tremendous roar, and with his mane standing on end, advanced to charge the ship, when a fresh volley laid him low. He, too, was carried on board when thoroughly dead, and his dimensions were as follows: Length from head to end of tail, 9 feet 6 inches; length of body, 6 feet 7 inches; height, 3 feet 9½ inches; weight, 420 pounds. The like of this incident, it is stated, has never occured before in that part of Mesopotamia. —London Pall Mall Gazette.

AN ADROIT FRAUD.

Some years ago, Solomon Bacon a well-known merchant in London, received a letter from his correspondent at Hamburg, which grieved and troubled him. It said that the writer had been defrauded by his nephew, the son of a widowed sister, of £10,000, and had fled to London with the money. There was a reluctance to make the matter public, and Mr. Bacon was desired to keep silence; 'but,' the letter went on to say, 'if you will invite John to dinner, and when alone tax him with the crime, he may perhaps refund the money. Should he do so, you may give him £500.' The London merchant found the young German, took him home, and when the ladies had all withdrawn from the dinner-table, he acquainted his visitor with his knowledge of the fraud. Alarm was depicted on the countenance of his guest.

'You will not make this public, Mr. Bacon,' he asked.

'Not if you return the money now and here.'

'But I lost £1,000 last night at Crockford's, and have not the power.'

'Well,' said the merchant, 'return me, then, £9,000 and though I little exceed my instructions, I will nevertheless give you back $600.

'My uncle is very good,' remarked the young man, and he forthwith handed from his pocket-book nine £1,000 notes to his host.

'I cannot change one of these,' said Mr. Bacon; 'will not my check do as well?'

'Quite,' replied the German; and having received the £600 check, hastily left.

The following morning Mr. Bacon went to his banker to pay his notes, and found, to his surprise, that they were all counterfeits. His next inquiry was after his check, but that was already cashed. He then telegraphed to his Hamburg correspondent, and learned that he was profoundly ignorant about the whole affair. It was as adroit a fraud as ever was plotted.

THAT MISCHIEVOUS YOUNG BROTHER.

The moral to the following told by the sufferer, is too apparent to mention. Young ladies will hereafter run their brothers out when gentlemen called:

I'm certain I wished somebody would spank the young rascal. We talked of hills, mountains, valleys and cataracts (I believe I said water-falls), when the boy spoke up and said:

'Why, sister's got a trunk full of them up-stairs; pa says they are made of horse-hair.'

The revelation struck terror into me, and blushes into the cheeks of my fair companion.

It began to be very apparent to me that I must be very guarded in what I said, lest the boy might slip in his remarks at uncalled-for places; in fact I turned my conversation to him, and told him he ought to go home with me and see what nice chickens we had in the country. Unluckily, I mentioned a yoke of calves my brother owned. The little one looked up and said:

'Sister's got a dozen pair of them, but she don't wear 'em only when she goes up town on windy days.'

'Leave the room, you unmannerly wretch,' cried Emily; 'leave quick!'

'I know what you want me to leave the room for,' he replied; 'you can't fool me. You want to set on that man's lap and kiss him like you did Will Jones the other day; you can't fool me, I jes tell you. Gimme some candy like he did, and I'll go. You think because you've got the Grecian bend you're smart. Guess I know a thing or two. I'm mad at you, anyhow, because papa would have bought me a top yesterday if it hadn't been for getting them curls, dog ye!' 'You needn't turn so red in the face, 'cause I can see the paint. There ain't no use winking with that glass-eye of yourn, for I ain't going out o' here, now that's what the matter with the purps. I don't care if you are twenty-eight years old, you ain't no boss o' me.'

NEW YORK, July 15.—The fire at the oil tanks at Weehawken, N. J., was extinguished yesterday morning. It is officially reported this morning that the loss will fall a little short of $700,000. The total number of barrels of oil burned is 70,000.

CLOTHING OF SEVENTY SIX.

The people of those times were respectfully clad. Their store of clothing was abundant, many of the fabrics used were elegant, and the fashion of their dress was frequently very stately. Pantaloons were not yet in vogue, but instead there were breeches of leather, buckskin, worsted, homespun, stockinet, black and brown broadcloth, plush, and velvet for winter; and for summer linen, cotton, nankeen, white dimity, and drilling. Dress-coats, surtouts, and great-coats were made of bear-skin, buckskin, homespun, denim, willan, broadcloth, velvet, and sagathy (a kind of serge); and cloaks of camlet, broadcloth, and kersey. Their vests were of linen, twilled cotton, diaper, white dimity serge, broadcloth, and velvet; their gloves of leather and yarn; their hats of felt, castor, and velvet; their shirts of linen, cotton, homespun, and tow; their stockings of woolen, cotton, and linen. For boots and shoes almost every house holder had in his house whole dressed calf-skins and sides of sole and other leather. Such were the materials of which the garments of the men of 'Seventy-six' were made; and they bespeak comfort in every case, and dignified respectability in most.

The apparel of the ladies was still more varied, and exhibits their characteristic love of gay colors and delicate fabrics. The assortment presented in these old inventories is fairly bewildering. Judging by them, the ladies of those days must all have considered caps and aprons indispansable to their toilets, the humblest among them having been the possessor of an indefinite number of each, the former having been made for the most part of cambric, taffeta, millinet, gauze, and linen, and the latter of lawn, holland-linen, taffets, muslin, millinet, down through the gamut to check, homespun, and tow. Their hats bonnets, and hoods were of beaver, satin, and bright-colored silk and velvets; their cloaks of worsted, broadcloth camlet, gay-colored silks, white and black satin, purple and black and blue velvet, and especially of brilliant scarlet flannel or cloth. Their dresses were formed of an endless variety of materials. The common short gown, which seems to have been generally affected when they were not in full toilet, was of kersey, holland linen, worsted, wilton, calamanco (a stuff resembling prunella), check, homespun, and linsey-woolsey. Their long gowns were of check, striped cotton, worsted, striped homespun, calico, 'boughten' calico muslin, chintz, outside chintz lined with calico, white halland, blue and striped holland, black and blue dursut (the fabric known as 'everlasting'), grosee, bombazine, blue and black russel (a species of linsey-woolsey), moreen, poplin, French tabby, velvet, and of lustestring, white, crimson, and other colored silks and satins. For the hands they wore gloves of thread, knit stuffs, silk, and leather; their stockings were of thread, cotton, muslin, yarn, linen, worsted, and silk; and their shoes were of cloth, prunella, calamanco, leather, and silk. Shawls were of cloth, cashmere, and taffeta; handkerchiefs and kerchiefs abounded in their wardrobes, and were of linen, cambric, taffeta, muslin, gauze, and Barcelona and other thin silks. Of shifts and petticoats their supply was nearly inexhaustible, some ladies, reckoning the loss of twelve, fifteen, and twenty of each, the former having been constructed of homespun and muslin, but chiefly of fine five and six hundred linen, and the latter of linsey, tow, flannel, kersey dimity, bombazine, and calamanco.

MORAL COURAGE.

Have the courage to discharge a debt when you have the money in your pocket.

Have the courage to speak your mind when it is necessary that you should do so, and hold your tongue when it is prudent to do so.

Have the courage to own that you are poor, and thus disarm poverty of its sharpest sting.

Have the courage to tell a man why you will not lend him money.

Have the courage to tell a man why you refused him credit.

Have the courage to cut the most agreeable acquaintance you have when you are convinced that he lacks principle; a friend should bear with a friend's infirmities, but not with his vices.

Have the courage to show your respect for honesty, in whatever guise it appears, and your contempt for dishonesty and duplicity, by whomsoever it is exhibited.

Have the courage to wear your old clothes until you can pay for new ones.

Have the courage to prefer comfort and propriety to fashion, in all things.

Have the courage to acknowledge your ignorance, rather than seek for knowledge under false pretenses.

Have the courage, in providing entertainment for your friends, not to exceed your means.

Have the courage to obey your Maker at the risk of being ridiculed by man.

SPOILED HISTORY.

Horace Greely used to affirm that newspaper men were the most patient people, as a class, on earth; and he was not far from right, though there are times when patience ceases to be a virtue with the most enduring. Nearly everybody in Michigan knows Burr, who used to start a newspaper about once a month the year round, generally tripping them out in Grand Rapids, but sometimes making a flying trip to other points. Burr could stand to be told that he lied about circulation, was on the fence as a politician, and that he didn't know anything about publishing a paper; and when men threatened to use or thrash him, he only smiled a sad smile and wished that mankind wouldn't get excited. During a religious revival in Grand Rapids, Burr was converted, and it frequently happened that religious people called at his office to talk with him. One day a minister came in, and after talking a while, he proposed prayer. He was in the act of kneeling, when his foot struck one of the outside form, which was leaning against a leg of the stone, ready to be lifted up, and over it went, making a half-a-bushel of 'pi.' Burr looked at the ruin wrought, thought of the two weeks of overwork, and commenced taking off his coat, saying,—

'I am trying to be a christian, and set a good example, but rat my buttons if I can't lick you in just two minutes!'

The clergyman backed down-stairs in no time, dodging the lye-brush on the way, and Burr back-slid at once, and sent down for a pint of stimulant.

AMERICAN SODA.

One hundred and eighteen thousand tons of crude soda at fifty dollars per ton is reported as about the annual importation of this salt used, as our readers know, in the manufacture of soap, glass, and other articles of general consumption. This will convey some idea of the importance of the great and wonderful natural deposits of carbonate of soda, which have been found in the west, six hundred miles beyond Omaha, and forty miles north of the Union Pacific railway. Deposits of soda are here found in all stages and conditions. In some cases, alkaline lakes are encountered, the water strurated with the carbonate. One especial deposit, of many acres in extent, consists of a crust of carbonate of soda more than six feet deep, under which is a strong alkaline liquid. This great deposit lies there, waiting for people to come and take it away. In quantity there is enough to supply the wants of the world for an age. In quality it is superior to the crude article now manufactured, as it contains twenty per cent. more of carbonate of soda, while in cost it is very cheap, as it may be delivered in New York, when the railway to the deposits is opened, for thirty dollars per ton. The soda trade is evidently destined to change. Instead of employing vessels to bring the product here, we shall soon fill them with improved cargoes of the article to go abroad.

TWO CONUNDRUMS.—A young lady, when riding from her father's country seat to a neighboring village met a young man on foot, who was carrying a jug. She at once reined in her horse, and asked him what he had in the jug.

Looking up with a comical leer, he simply winked one eye and smacked his lips, to indicate that it contained something good.

The young lady, supposing he meant alcohol, immediately began to talk temperance, but her auditor requested the privilege of first asking her one question:

'What is it?' she asked.

'It is this,' he replied; 'why is my jug like your side-saddle?'

She could not tell.

'It is because it holds a gal-on,' said he.

'What trifling!' exclaimed the indignant young lady, and then continued:

'Young man, do you perceive—'

'Just one more question,' interrupted her auditor, 'and then I am done. Why is my jug like the assembly-room of a female seminary at roll-call?'

'I am sure I don't know,' petulantly replied the young lady.

'Well, it's because it is full o' lasses,' said the incorrigible auditor.

The fair lecturer touched her spirited horse with her whip, and was soon out of hearing the rude young man.

EFFECT OF NEGRO RULE.—The Atlanta Herald states that the Hill Plantation, on the Waccamaw river, South Carolina, which two years ago commanded twelve thousand dollars, is now offered for $4,200. It mentions a rice plantation in the same State which, previous to negro rule, was held at from seventy-five to one hundred dollars per acre, and is now offered at seventy-five cents per acre! Comment is unnecessary.

Toronto, July 11.—The yacht Foam, thirteen tons, left Toronto Saturday evening with eight passengers on board for a trip to Niagara. She has not been heard from, and it is feared that she has gone down.

MR. BALL'S ADDRESS.

Mr. Ball, Chairman of the Judicial Executive Committee put out in the last New North State in an address, the burden of which is "an unpartisan judiciary," and an apology for the reasons which induced the radical party to forego their right and duty to make nominations out of their own ranks.

As we have before said, this sudden clamor for impartiality, for purity, for freedom from partizanship, comes with a very bad grace, and with much of the odor of hypocrisy, from a party which went into the last election for the bench so exclusively upon the grounds of party claims and party services, that all the qualifications of learning, intellect and moral excellence were disregarded.

And it is matter of fact, that justice has been administered in some of the districts with so much of ignorance, so much of partiality, so much of prejudice, that the bench of North Carolina has lost all its time honored influence.

No wonder the party, scourged by an outraged public sentiment, would affect a willingness to remove the disgrace, and we might have some faith in the sincerity of its conversion, if it put in practice, where it claims to be in the majority, the principles it sets forth in this district. But no. Where they feel their strength, they indulge in their old license. There is no man more obnoxious to the charges of partizanship than Judge Russell of the 4th District. He is the radical candidate again, with all the zeal of his party around to sustain him. It was thought he would be elected, and therefore in his case, the new principles of virtue of the 7th district were not applicable. Judge Logan, condemned by the more candid of the bar in his district for his ignorance, and general unfitness, and hateful to the other party for his blind partizanship, is encouraged to run, because an independent conservative candidate jeopardizes conservative success in that district. While Judge Tourgee, more able than either of these, and for the last year sufficiently impartial and acceptable is made to stand aside for the independent ally from the conservative ranks.

The assumption of a desire for an impartial administration of justice, and the idea that it will not be had under Judge Kerr, is a sham, a pretext to cover other and very different objects. The whole scheme is exposed in the Graham resolution to select any one 'who can defeat the nominee of the democratic convention.'

The defeat of the democratic nominee means a great deal for the radical party. It means not that they will have elected an impartial judge—for that is a matter of indifference to them—but that they will have gained a radical victory in a district where conservative triumph was otherwise assured, and by this victory will have revived the failing hopes of the party, trembling under defeat at so many other points. Success to the radicals in the North Carolina election means a turn in the tide of battle. North Carolina speaks first.

Will the Conservatives of this district give them this encouragement, by supporting one who comes out in opposition to the nominee of the convention, and who can only be elected by the addition of the few disaffected, added to the whole radical strength of the district? Would not this result be a clear radical victory? Will any conservative help bring it about?

We hope not, but that every man will stand to his colors.

The New North State takes it as a noticeable fact that the 'Democratic papers of the district' have commented upon the candidacy of Col. Ruffin with courtesy. It may be something new to a Republican paper to admit the possibility of decency in a political opponent, since the usual weapons of the radical party are vituperation and misrepresentation. It is neither within the scope of our inclinations or our principles to deny merit when it exists, or ascribe defects as a substitute for arguments.

One might suppose, that, following the course of the New North State, we ought to have assailed Col. Ruffin with the coarsest abuse, and held him up as a monster of depravity. On the contrary, we have such regard for the character of that gentleman, which in its private relations, so far as personal knowledge goes, is irreproachable, that we should have been false to every dictate of truth and generosity to have assailed him for mere party purposes.

It is with his political position alone that we have to deal; not to blacken his fame, or depreciate his abilities. In that position for his sake, we have everything to regret; on account of the conservative party, nothing to fear. If he is now fully affiliated with the radical party, as must painfully be admitted, it is a weight for his political conscience to bear, to the burden of which we would not add by unjust detraction or unseemly epithets.

CAPT. DAVIS.

The campaign is going on actively, and the most cheering accounts reach us respecting the prospects of this gentleman. In Johnson his gains will undoubtedly be large; we have the strongest hopes for a large majority in Chatham. The other counties we expect to do well, but we can only speak with certainty of Orange alone. All difficulties here are long since reconciled, and the satisfaction for Davis increases every day. We might almost safely promise him a majority of 800 in the county.

There will be a full turn out at all the places in the county at which he has made appointments.

This judicial district is most decidedly Conservative, the conservative majority most unmistakeable. Shall the district be given over to the radicals through a radical trick? Can the conservatives suffer themselves to be imposed upon by the shallow pretext of purity and impartiality? What have those words ever weighed with the radicals? What charm do they carry with them in the Districts where Logan and Russel and Watts, and Cloud and Cannon preside? Would they mean anything in this district if Tourgee had stood the ghost of a chance for election by his party?

No, it is a radical victory that is sought after, not the purification of the bench; and the success of Col. Ruffin would be trumpeted from one end of the country as the overthrow of the conservatives, and the triumph of the radicals.

Be not deceived by the trick, but support the tickets put out by the regular nominating bodies.

WITHDRAWAL.

Col. John F. Hoke, the independent candidate in the 7th Judicial District is believed to have withdrawn from the contest. He thinks it best to live and die a loyal Conservative rather than aid the radicals to defeat the nominee of the Democratic Convention.

Col. Hoke's example might be suggestive to some others we wot of, if they are really bona fide independent candidates.

APPOINTMENT.

Mr. Wm. Cain of Asheville, so well and favorably known here, has been appointed to fill the chair of Mathematics, Engineering and Astronomy in the Carolina Military Institute at Charlotte. He is the son of Dr. Wm. Cain, dec'd., and grandson of Hon. Thomas Bailey. He is a young man of rare excellence of character, talented and accomplished and is an example of what industry, and energy, guided by correct principles, can accomplish.

DEFECTION REWARDED.

Gen. James Longstreet, once the honored and trusted leader of southern bravery, but who for years past has bowed at the footstool of the dominant party, is said to be upon the point of receiving a full reward for his actions. Minister Jewell having been appointed Post Master General, Longstreet is spoken of to succeed him at the Russian Court.

A CARD.

To the Editor of Hillsboro Recorder:

My attention has been attracted by the Card of Col. Ruffin, in which he announces himself a candidate for the office of Judge of the 7th Judicial District of North Carolina.

I feel myself impelled to notice this card thus publicly, and to reply to some of its insinuations. Col. Ruffin states the motives of his friends in bringing him forward to be; a desire (on their part) to have "the law administered without the suspicion of partizanship."

He also states that he is "incapable of soliciting votes for such an office, upon the score of party prejudice."

May I not inqure, when did he become so mild and moderate in principle and in temper as to be thus eminently fitted above all others for a proper exercise of the judicial functions? Has he been always distinguished as a man of moderation in his character? or has he not hitherto been known as one of inordinate force of prejudice and excessive violence of resentment?

His repugnance to 'soliciting votes for such an office' from party, seems to be of very recent origin!

He is known to have solicited from the Democratic Conservative party of the District the nomination which they did me the honor to confer upon me.

In his own county of Orange his claims were pressed in the County Convention of Democrats and Conservatives, and he failed to secure the endorsement of that respectable body of patriotic citizens, and then forsooth, he becomes a little too late and a little to suddenly averse to asking partizan support.

But can he be fully sincere in this new and surprising profession of his?

Has he not been in frequent conference, since my nomination, with partizans of the Radical claw, in order to obtain the votes of that class of politicians for the office he is now seeking? I am credibly informed that he has, and that he is now running under the auspices of the Republican party, though not formally nominated by them. Why has Judge Tourgee declined in his favor? Why was he in conference with Boyd and with Brown and Strayhorn; and why did he encourage them to such a degree as to induce the two last named to announce that he was fully with them in party affiliation, as well as in the desire to defeat me in the pending election?

He now says his party affiliations are unchanged; that "there has never been a day, and there can never come a day, when he has been, or can be willing to separate himself from the good people of his native State, with whom he has so long, and so earnestly sympathised."

Has he never declared that he advised Mr. Sam. Phillips to join the Republican party, and expressed regret that he had not joined it at the same time Phillips did?

I can only say that I have been credibly informed that he has.

I have no hesitation in admitting my belief that Col. Ruffin has always been strongly opposed in feeling and sentiment to the Radical party; but he has been extremely careful not to avow his sentiments in this regard, when and where such an avowal might be in the least degree injurious to his professional interest.

He now declares that he regards a connection with that party as a "separation of himself and his fortunes from the good people of his native State."

This, indeed, would be termed by some an expression of extreme violence, if used by me, such as would disqualify me for the duties of the Bench.

Are the Republicans no longer a portion "of the good people" of Col. Ruffin's "native State?" And, if elected, will he view them as aliens and strangers, carpet-baggers, foreigners and intruders, and desperate adventurers?

Let him think of his friends, Albright, Boyd and others, and qualify this written expression of opinion in regard to them.

I have noticed Col. Ruffin's Card with reluctance. I regret that he has forced me to do so. I close now by simply adding to what I have already said, that I am profoundly grateful to my fellow citizens for the kind regard on their part which has placed me in my present position; and, if I should be elected to the office to which I am now aspiring through the agency of my friends, I shall, in the fear of God, and in humble dependence upon his holy guidance, endeavor so to discharge its grave duties as to secure His divine favor, and to preclude the possibility of being suspected of a partizan or other improper bias even by the most uncharitable, most malignant of my opponents.

Very respectfully,
JOHN KERR.

THE EXECUTIVE OF THE STATE

Curtis H. Brogden, Lieutenant Governor of North Carolina, by operation of the Constitutional provision has become Governor of the State and been duly inducted into the office, having been duly qualified before Justice Reade.

SHALL IT BE SO!

The only ostensible objection urged by the Radicals against the election of Judge Kerr is the fear that he will administer justice in a partizan spirit. To determine this question, the few white radicals of the district, sustained by the large negro vote en masse, call upon deceived or disaffected Conservatives to aid them. Will they do it? Shall the negro vote determine the character of our judiciary? Yet they will actually have done it, if the Conservatives fly off at the handle and help them.

GEN. ROBERT RANSOM

Has bought the famous plantation adjacent to Drewrys Bluff, so well remembered by the North Carolina troops in War times. He paid $25,000 for it, and will now settle down as a Virginia farmer.

A CARD.

To the Electors of the Seventh Judicial District of North Carolina:

I RESPECTFULLY announce that I am a candidate for the office of Judge at this ensuing election.

I have been determined to take this step, by the advice of many personal friends and the solicitations of persons, belonging to the several political parties in the District, who profess themselves desirous of having the law administered without reference to Party.

Being incapable of soliciting votes for such an office, upon the score of party prejudices, I should make no allusion at all to that subject if it had not been charged in some of the Public Prints in advance of any public by expressed purpose of mine to become a candidate, that I had changed my party affiliations, in the hope of reward from those, to whom as is well known, I have hitherto been opposed.

Such a charge is alike unjust to me, and to those who make it, and I here give it my most positive denial: There never has been a day, and there can never come a day in my life when I have been, or can be, willing to separate my fortunes from those of this good people of my native State, with whom I have so long and so earnestly sympathised.

In conclusion, I beg to assure the whole people of this District, that in the event of my promotion to so honorable and important an office, I will use my best efforts to discharge its duties faithfully, by an equal, just and impartial administration of the Law.

Acknowledgment for Courtesies.

The escort from Hillsboro who attended the remains of His Excellency Gov. Caldwell to Raleigh, desire to express through the medium of this paper, their grateful sense of the unremitting kindness and attention bestowed upon them by Dr. Blacknall of the Yarborough House.

The delegates say, that they were not only the subjects of the most lavish hospitality while the guests of Dr. Blacknall, but that on leaving for Morganton, a most bountiful lunch for five whole party was put up, and sent out to them, which was afterwards duly enjoyed and the kindness appreciated.

The train which went to Morganton with the remains of Gov. Caldwell, reached here on Wednesday at 3 p m. having left Morganton at 6 a m. a run of nine hours, including a detention of an hour at Salisbury. The distance is 175 miles.

Discontinuance of Sunday Trains.

The Sunday train over the North Carolina Rail Road between the Shops and Goldsboro has been discontinued, not from pious motives certainly, because on the west end they are kept up. What with the loss of the telegraph office and the Sunday trains, we are taking steps rapidly backwards to primitive likes and ignorance.

A Considerate Thief.

Somewhere in this county (we will not say where,) a planter whose supply of tobacco plants may be presumed to be short undertook by a midnight expedition to supply himself from the plant-bed of a neighbor. He got the plants. But he left behind him his pocket-book containing between $75 and $100. It is possible he intended to leave pay for the plants, but if so, he was entirely too liberal, and he is informed that he can get his pocket-book by calling for it, with the contents, and that the other party is open to an arrangement for the payment for the missing plants.

A Household Remedy.—No family should be without some efficacious remedy for the cure of affections so universally prevalent as coughs, colds, sore throat, whooping cough and croup—some remedy too, which can be relied on as safe, sure and certain. Dr Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry combines the desideratum.

The Telegraph Office.

About two months ago, the telegraph office here was discontinued owing to some misunderstanding or disagreement between the Western Union and the N. C. R. R. Co. With those disagreements, we have nothing to do, not knowing the merits of the case. No doubt the reasons were sufficiently good, as between the two contracting parties. But the interests of a third, and much more interested party—that of our public—were entirely ignored.

It is one thing, never to have had the use of a telegraph; altogether another, to be suddenly and arbitrarily, without opportunity for remonstrance or arrangement, to be deprived of it after ten or twelve years experience of its benefits, and dependence upon its agency. If it were not patronized here to the extent of profit to the Company, it at least paid a large proportion of its expenses, and a Company which counts its profits by millions, and its offices by thousands, should have scorned to stoop to the petty economy of closing one in a place important and conspicuous in many respects, because, forsooth, it was not a paying office.

The illness of Governor Caldwell here, and the delays—fatal they might be regarded—which obstructed communication with other places, puts the grievance in its strongest light, and we hope our citizens will at once take steps to have the office re-opened, either up town, or at the depot, and make such guarantees if necessary, as may secure the Western Union Telegraph Company against loss by reason of the use of its wires.

The Comet.

The comet has come and gone, and we are free to say, with all due respect to so illustrious a visiter, that it was something of a humbug. It by no means came up to the promises of the exhibitors, Messrs Coggia & Co, who had advertised it as the great event of the century. The nucleus, instead of blazing with fiery portent, and threatening to ignite the world in general conflagration, had much the appearance of a tallow candle dimly glimmering through the obscurity of an old fashioned horn lantern, and the tail, instead of "shaking from its horrid hair, pestilence and war" was as faint and weak as a washed-out ribbon or a well used straw-broom.

The Comet itself seemed conscious of failure, and instead of riding high in ether, flaunting defiance at terrestials, slunk off into a corner of the heavens, and, at the very time when its promise was the greatest, appeared to feel itself unable to come up to the bill, and hastened to hide itself behind the western sky, leaving its tail, weak and limp, hanging over the rail of the horizon, an object of compassion, instead of wonder.

The astronomical Barnums have put a celestial woodley horse on us.

For the Recorder.

MR. EDITOR:

I infer from your editorial remarks in your paper, about roads, and laws, and other matters in general, you feel a deep interest in the prosperity of Hillsboro, and the county in general. You seem to ask the question, why is it that our section does, not show more of the spirit of improvement? It is best sometimes to ask questions and let those interested work out the answer for themselves. It is best sometimes to tell the truth, although it may hurt to make men think: to tell it sharply, to make men feel. To think right, and feel right, is a good start to do something in the right direction. To do, means work; work like truth, hurts, but not in the same place; one bears on conscience, the other on the physical man. Now I do not intend to say that our people are not a thinking people, for I know the best of judges think differently. I once heard a clergyman whose good name is in all the churches, say, there was as much intelligence in Hillsboro as any town in the State. Mr. Turner once said in a public speech in the streets of Hillsboro, after returning home from a visit to Edgecombe county, where he was told by the field hands, that they worked more than half the year making manure. Mr. Turner said, "Fellow citizens I believe there is as good people in and around Hillsboro as in any country. But fellow citizens, we are the most inert and slothful people in business matters in the State. Where I have been, the people are alive to work." This was a hard truth from our own kith and kin, but it did us good, and we ought to thank him for it. As I rode over to your town sometime past I fell in with a youthful man, and as we neared your town, the conversation turned on Hillsboro, its past and its future. The young man remarked "Hillsboro is destined to be a great town, a very great town, although its age was one hundred and fourteen years." I asked the young man how long before the good time would come? he hesitated, and then said one hundred and fourteen years. This answer took me down a little, but I consoled myself I might see the beginning if not the end.

Mr. Editor cant you do something to shorten the years? cant you gather the young people of your town and the country in some hall or grove, and ask some of your old men whose locks are whitening for the end, to tell them the beauty there is in being diligent in business? Tell them the great God who has made all things; has made their home a goodly land, where the grass in the fields and the leaves on the trees grow the deepest shade of green, and cobling waters gush and run. And you Mr. Editor, make this truth known, and the North men will hear it and come, and the East will know it and come, and the South will see it and come, and help us to improve it, and our children, children will dwell in it when we are dead.

F.

For the Recorder.

MR. EDITOR:

As I have a leisure moment, and as I am impressed with the belief that you and many of your readers would be interested in reading a few lines from this section of old Orange, I therefore embrace this opportunity of communicating to you.

In this section of the county there is not more than half crop of wheat; but as a general thing, wheat is turning out better than the people expected. There is a very good crop of oats. Corn is withering up and suffering much for the want of rain.

But notwithstanding the failure of a wheat crop and the anticipated failure of a corn crop, the people are not discouraged; they are inhaling fresh vigor and energy from the loss of their labor and are determined to invent or try a different and better method of farming.

The failure of crops this season is teaching them a lesson which they are unwilling to disregard. It is arousing them from their lethargy, impressing upon them the importance of planting less and working more, dispelling the old traditionary methods of planting, proving to them the folly of ignorance, instilling in them a spirit of education, and teaching them to ever scorn the rugged reality of listless despair.

The Grangers are rapidly gaining popularity in this section. There is a Lodge at Little River, the membership of which is about forty. There has also been established within the last month a Lodge of Good Templars at the same place, which is doing a good work and which is destined to do a still better and greater work.

We did not purpose in this communication to praise Little River Township too much, because we have always heard, but never believed that "self praise is half scandal;" but I simply wished the truth to be known, and then let others praise. The people of this Township have always been noted for their hospitality and industry, and it is needless for me to attempt to add another laurel to the wreath that has already been twined for the remembrance of their noble qualities.

Another suspicious and commendable characteristic of the Township is, that the people are not only awake to the interests of farming, but they are awakend and alive on the subject of education. They have long ago begun to see and feel the necessity of education, but never until now have they manifested an active spirit.

The School Committee has established free public schools in almost all the districts, in one of which the attendance is so large, that they have been forced to the necessity of employing an assistant.

The leading men in the vicinity of Little River are taking active steps to erect a large and commodious Academy near where the old one was burned, and are agitating the propriety of connecting a Masonic Hall therewith, in which by the unceasing efforts of their old teacher from Randolph they hope to have a permanent classical school by the first of July 1875. These facts afford a striking proof that the people are bent and determined on liberating themselves and their children from the iron fetters of ignorance. Already has the bright star of education become visible above the horizon—already have its golden beams pierced the degrading mantle of darkness with which ignorance was wont to clothe this lovely section—and already has it begun to gild with its fresh and soothing radiance those who are striving for the fruits of knowledge.

All these enterprises and omens of improvements are due to the influence of the old Church which has stood for more than a century inculcating principles of truth and morality, and which is destined still to stand as a beacon light to those who are yet addicted to the vices of the world, and are still struggling beneath the iron heel of superstition.

SAMBO.

Little River, July 15th, 1874.

The Crops.

The work of threshing out wheat is now going on generally through the county, and it is mostly turning out badly. The last days of the growing season did the mischief. Corn is not looking as well as usual for the season, there being a deficiency of rain, though not actually a drought. There is time enough yet to recover from injury. Tobacco is decidedly a bad crop this year, certainly not as much as two thirds of a crop planted, and the growth backward. There must necessarily be a large advance in the markets.

A. W. Graham Esq, has been qualified as town Commissioner, vice Mr Robert Faucett, resigned. Look out now for something to be done.

Lee, Greene, Lindley & Bentley's Great Family Medicines,

Prepared expressly for and adapted to the Southern climate.

"Compound Extract Corydalis," is the most powerful and efficient Alterative and Blood Purifier known, prepared expressly for Scrofula, Secondary Syphilis, Eruptions on the skin, and all diseases which are produced by bad or impure blood.

"Dr. Greene's Fit Cure," cures all kinds of Fits, Spasms and Convulsions, which depend upon irritation of the nerve centres; often stops the Fits from the first day's use ever where they have existed for years.

"Medicated Honey," the great remedy for Coughs, Colds, Croup, Asthma, Bronchitis, Sore Throat and all diseases of the Air-passages and Lungs. It does not sicken the patient, is pleasant to take, prompt in its action, does not injure the appetite or impair digestion as most Expectorants do.

"Our Neuralgia Specific" is a perfect specific for Neuralgia, Sciatica, Rheumatism, & all muscular or nervous pains wherever situated.

These Medicines are prepared with great care from perfectly reliable drugs, and for the especial classes of diseases named upon each bottle. No one of them is claimed as a "cure all." They are identically the same which we have used in our practice for years, and in thus recommending them to the public we know whereof we affirm. They are safe, reliable and efficient, acting quickly and thoroughly. Try them and you will want no others. Ask your Druggists for them.

conduct an Agency for the reception of advertisements for American Newspapers—the most complete establishment of the kind in the world. 40 Advertisements are arranged regularly on file, open to Inspection of customers. Every ADVERTISEMENT is taken at the home price of the paper, without any additional charge or commission. An advertiser, in dealing with the Agency, is saved trouble and correspondence, making one contract instead of a dozen, a hundred or a thousand. A BOOK of eighty pages, containing lists of best papers, lists of trade, religious, agricultural, class, political, daily and country papers, and all publications which are specially valuable to advertisers, with some information about prices, is sent FREE to any address on application. Persons at a distance wishing to make contracts for advertising in any town, city, county, State or Territory in the United States, or any portion of the Dominion of Canada, may send a concise statement of what they want, together with a copy of the ADVERTISEMENT they desire inserted, and will receive information by return mail which will enable them to decide whether to increase or reduce the order. For such information there is no charge. Orders are taken for a single paper, as well as for a quantity. A Pamphlet, containing a list of newspapers, with the rates they charge, and much information valuable to any one who contemplates advertising, sent for 25 cents. Address as above.

A MEDICAL TRIUMPH!

DR. D. S. PERRY'S,

VEGETABLE AROMATIC

BITTERS.

THESE Bitters must become the universal remedy of the age. There is nothing like them or to equal them under the sun. They restore the weak, invigorate the feeble, and give new life and tone to the broken down system. In miasmatic and malarious districts they are worth a ship load of Quinine powders and pills. They are especially adapted to persons suffering from Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Costiveness, Headache, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Chills and Fever and Piles.

TO DELICATE FEMALES,

Ladies, old or young, will find these Bitters especially adapted to their sex. Nervousness, Lassitude, Want of Appetite and General Debility, all yield to the magic charm of these inestimable Bitters.

Hear What is Said.
Hear What is Said.
Hear What is Said.

"Wonderful effects have resulted from your Dr. PERRY'S Bitters."

"My Chills are gone. I can hardly believe it."

"Send me one case PERRY'S Bitters again. Nothing like them here."

"I enclose affidavit of my case. I had to do so to convince you of the wonderful cure."

"Surely they are the most delightful wine tonic in the world."

"Dr. Wilson says that you are a public benefactor."

"Hurrah! No more Rheumatism."

"No more headache, thanks to you."

We could fill this paper twice over with just such genuine extracts, but the above must suffice. Our Bitters are prepared under the supervision of DR. D. S. PERRY, Member of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons, London, England, and of the Medical Clinic of Glasgow.

All orders should be addressed to the

PERRY AROMATIC BITTER CO.,
42 Courtland St.
NEW YORK.

The Bitters are sold either by the bottle or case at $1 per bottle.

Parties in sending letters for advice as to their diseases will confer quite a favor by giving name of County as well as Town where they reside. It will save us a wonderful amount of time and annoyance if this will be observed.

SPEEDY AND PURE RICH BLOOD, INCREASE OF FLESH AND WEIGHT—CLEAR SKIN AND BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION SECURED TO ALL.

DR. RADWAY'S

Sarsaparillian Resolvent

THE GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER.

FOR MORE THAN THE MOST ASTONISHING CURES, SO QUICK AND RAPID ARE THEIR OPERATIONS, THE KIDS UNDERGOING UNDER THE INFLUENCE OF THIS TRULY WONDERFUL MEDICINE, THAT

Every Day an Increase in Flesh and Weight is Seen and Felt.

Every drop of the SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT communicates through the Blood, sweat, Urine, and other Fluids and Juices of the system the vigor of life, for it repairs the waste of the body with new and sound material. Scrofula, Scrofulous Affections, Glandular disease, Ulcers in the throat, Mouth, Tumors, Nodes in the Glands and other parts of the system, Sore Eyes, Strumous diseases from the Babe and the worst forms of Skin diseases, Tetter, Fever Sores, Scald Head, Ring Worm, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Acne, Black Spots, Worms in the Flesh, Tumors, Cancers in the Womb, and all weakening and painful discharges, Night Sweats, Chronic Mercurial and all Venereal diseases, Rheumatism, Gout, Dropsy, and all Scrofulous affections of the blood, in fact, all those diseases that arise within the constitution from an impure state of the blood, are within the curative range of this wonder of Modern Chemistry, and a few days' use will prove to any person who is for either of these forms of disease its potent power to cure them.

In the second place, being formed for the waste and decomposition that is constantly progressing, and ever is arresting these waste, and repairs the same with new material made from healthy blood—and this the SARSAPARILLIAN will and does, every time—and it certain; for when once this remedy commences its work of purification, and succeeds in disinfecting the law of waste, decomposition will be rapid, and every day the patient will feel himself growing better, the blood the most digestive better, appetite improving, flesh firm and weight increasing.

Not only does the SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT expel all known Scrofulous agents in the forms of Cancers, Tetter, Consumption, Constitutional, and Skin diseases, but it is the only positive cure for

Kidney & Bladder Complaints,

Urinary and Womb diseases, Gravel, Diabetes, Dropsy, Stoppage of Water, Incontinence of Urine, Bright's disease, Albuminuria, and the worst forms of Chronic Retention, with deposits, or the water is thick, cloudy, mixed with substances like the white of an egg, or threads like white silk, or there is a morbid, dark, bloody appearance, and white bone dust deposits, exist, there is pain in the small of the back, and along the Loins.

Tumor of 12 Years' Growth Cured by Radway's Resolvent.

Perfect Purgative & Regulating Pills

perfectly tasteless, elegantly coated with sweet gum, purge, regulate, purify, cleanse and strengthen. Radway's Pills, for the cure of all disorders of the stomach, Liver, Bowels, Kidneys, Bladder, Nervous Diseases, Headache, Constipation, Costiveness, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Bilious Fever, Inflammation of the Bowels, Piles, and all Derangements of the Internal Viscera. Warranted to effect a positive cure. Purely Vegetable, containing no mercury, minerals or deleterious drugs.

A few Cases of RADWAY'S PILLS will free the system from all the above named disorders. Price, 25 cents per box. SOLD BY DRUGGISTS.

VINEGAR BITTERS

PURELY VEGETABLE — FREE FROM ALCOHOL — DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA — EUREKA — VINEGAR BITTERS

Dr. J. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters are a purely Vegetable preparation, made chiefly from the native herbs found on the lower ranges of the Sierra Nevada mountains of California, the medicinal properties of which are extracted therefrom without the use of Alcohol. The question is almost daily asked, "What is the cause of the unparalleled success of VINEGAR BITTERS?" Our answer is, that they remove the cause of disease, and the patient recovers his health. They are the great blood purifier and a life-giving principle, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system. Never before in the history of the world has a medicine been compounded, possessing the remarkable qualities of VINEGAR BITTERS in healing the sick of every disease man is heir to. They are a gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver and Visceral Organs in Bilious Diseases.

The properties of DR. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS are Aperient, Diaphoretic, Carminative, Nutritious, Laxative, Diuretic, Sedative, Counter-Irritant, Sudorific, Alterative, and Anti-Bilious.

Thousands proclaim VINEGAR BITTERS the most wonderful Invigorant that ever sustained the sinking system.

No Person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and vital organs wasted beyond repair.

Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, which are so prevalent in the valleys of our great rivers throughout the United States, especially those of the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Cumberland, Arkansas, Red, Colorado, Brazos, Rio Grande, Pearl, Alabama, Mobile, Savannah, Roanoke, James, and many others, with their vast tributaries, throughout our entire country during the Summer and Autumn, and remarkably so during seasons of unusual heat and dryness, are invariably accompanied by extensive derangements of the stomach and liver, and other abdominal viscera. In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon these various organs, is essentially necessary. There is no cathartic for the purpose equal to DR. J. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, as they will speedily remove the dark-colored viscid matter with which the bowels are loaded, at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver, and generally restoring the healthy functions of the digestive organs.

Fortify the body against disease by purifying all its fluids with VINEGAR BITTERS. No epidemic can take hold of a system thus fore-armed.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the region of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia. One bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertisement.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, White Swellings, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Swelled Neck, Goitre, Scrofulous Inflammations, Indolent Inflammations, Mercurial Affections, Old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin, Sore Eyes, etc. In these as in all other constitutional Diseases, WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS have shown their great curative powers in the most obstinate and intractable cases.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have no equal. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood.

Mechanical Diseases.—Persons engaged in Painting and Minerals, such as Plumbers, Type-setters, Gold-beaters, and Miners, as they advance in life, are subject to paralysis of the Bowels. To guard against this, take a dose of WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS occasionally.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt-Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worm, Scald-head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. No system of medicine, no vermifuge, no anthelmintic, will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters display so decided an influence that improvement is soon perceptible.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

THE GREAT REMEDY FOR

which can be cured by a timely resort to this standard preparation, as has been proved by the hundreds of testimonials received by the proprietors. It is acknowledged by many prominent physicians to be the most reliable preparation ever introduced for the relief and cure of all Lung complaints, and is offered to the public, sanctioned by the experience of over forty years. When resorted to in season it seldom fails to effect a speedy cure in the most severe cases of Coughs, Bronchitis, Croup, Whooping Cough, Influenza, Asthma, Colds, Sore Throat, Pains or Soreness in the Chest and Side, Liver Complaint, Bleeding at the Lungs, &c. Wistar's Balsam does not dry up a Cough, and leave the cause behind, as is the case with most preparations, but it loosens and cleanses the lungs, and allays irritation, thus removing the cause of the complaint.
